LOCAL ITEMS.

MULE-SELLING EXTRAORDINARY.—Our

attention was attracted yesterday afternoon by an enterprising auctioneer, who, by dint of coaxing, and the un-thought efforts of some small boys, succeeded in getting an ancient mule into the open space in front of the Record office, and forthwith commenced explaining on the excellent qualities of the ancient mule, with an evident view to his speedy sale. He enlarged on the manifest destiny of Pioche, that the hour was near at hand, and depicted the facinations of Cornucopia, of Wallapai

District and the prospective riches of the Pantamint mountains, with an oily and practiced tongue, but the "boys" wouldn't bite. They had been there before, and "Going, gentlemen, at $31—$34—for the naked mule—four years old, if it's a day, and the bride thrown in—look in his mouth and judge for yourselves, gentlemen; going at $34—$35, shall I say it?" failed to elicit a response.

We feel satisfied that we recognized the owner of that mule, and, from the look of his eyes, we are willing to bet a week's salary that it was his intention to investigate the merits of mule meat, as an edible, inside of an hour.

FUNERAL OF JOHN MANNING.—Yesterday afternoon, at half-past three o'clock, the remains of John Manning, who was shot by officer McKee on Wednesday, were borne to the grave. As the procession, which numbered about one hundred and fifty persons, passed down Main street there was almost perfect silence along the street, an unusual thing in Pioche. Most of those in the line were on foot, there were, however, half a dozen carriages and a few horsemen. The remains were taken to the Catholic graveyard. They were silently lowered into the grave, and, after the gloves and sashes had been thrown upon the coffin, one of those who had followed the hearse pronounced a prayerbook and read the burial service. Another dry mound of dirt and rock was added to the line, and the mourners walked back to town.

MOONLIGHT.—The nights we are having now are delightful ones in which to indulge in "moping melancholy and moonstruck madness," if one were so inclined. The view, also, over the moonlit plain, is one which would inspire the pensive heart with sad thoughts indeed. A few pure white clouds hang in the star-spangled sky, and their dark shadows sleep upon the gray sagebrush, or float over the hills far away in the north. That these beauties of nature do inspire the heart with poetic feelings, we know, from having overheard last evening, a sweet damsel of Pioche say to her gallant lover, as they walked in the lovely moonlight: "Them cloud shadows out there look darned funny, don't they?"

In reply to which the romantic swain made the expressive remark: "You bet!"

IN OUR columns to-day will be found an advertisement offering $300 reward for the arrest and conviction, to use the words of the advertisement, "of the cowardly rascals" who broke into the house of the lady who offers the reward. Some palliation may be found for almost any act, but what language can be found to fitly describe the infamous wretch who would break into the dwellings of a respectable widow lady, and without even the excuse of plunder, wantonlly destroy the property so hardly earned by honest industry? Most sincerely do we trust that our efficient officers will discover the perpetrators of this cowardly outrage, and bring them to the punishment they merit.

DEPARTURE.—By this morning's stage

Mr. J. J. Nagle leaves for San Francisco, where he proposes to sojourn for a short

District Court—Feller, Judge.

Yesterday, in the District Court, David Leahy, indicted for grand larceny, asked through his counsel for a continuance of his trial for thirty days on account of his being unable to obtain two important witnesses. Granted.

The sentence of James Harrington, convicted of murder in the second degrees, was postponed until Saturday.

Wm. Mulcahy, against whom there were five indictments for forgery, asked permission to withdraw his plea of not guilty, with regard to two of the indictments, and to substitute for it the plea of guilty. By request of counsel the sentence was deferred until one week from Saturday next.

All the jurors were excused until Wednesday, September 10th, at 10 a. m.

The Court then adjourned till 10 o'clock on Saturday morning.

EISENMANN & Co. yesterday received the first shipment of goods sent from the East by Jos. Eisenmann, of that firm.

The shipment consisted of a large lot of sheet iron, galvanized iron, etc., of all grades.

WANTED TO FIGHT.—At eight o'clock last evening an individual on the corner of Main and Lacour streets was desirous of whipping some one. Several officers came up opportunely and took him away to cool off.

BENEFIT TO-MORROW NIGHT.—Mr. John

Maguire takes a benefit at Hanley's hall to-morrow evening. "Robert Emmet"
